DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The claims are generally narrative and indefinite, failing to conform to current U.S. practice. They appear to be a literal translation into English from a foreign document and are replete with grammatical and idiomatic errors. Take for instance the following examples:

- The limitation “an adjacent bar already connected” (line 1) renders the claims unclear. Does the limitation denote a method step of assembly? Does the limitation mean to infer that the “adjacent bar” is previously (already) set forth in the claim? If so where does the term derive proper antecedent basis from?
- It is unclear if the “opposed reinforcement bars” (lines 1-2 of claim 2) are meant to refer to the bars previously set forth in lines 2 and 3 of claim 1.
- It is unclear which, if any, bars the term “the bars” (line 2 of claim 2) is meant to refer to.
- It is unclear whether applicant intends to limit the “bar connector assembly” by the “bars” since the bars are referred to both as functional intended use (e.g., lines 1-2 of claim 2) and positively (e.g., line 2 of claim 6). For purposes of examination the claims are taken without combination.

Art Unit: 3679

For the reasons mentioned above a great deal of confusion and uncertainty exists as to the proper interpretation of the claim limitations. In accordance with the MPEP § 2173.06, rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102 or 35 U.S.C. 103 follows based on the examiner's best understanding of the claim scope. The applicant is strongly urged to amend the entirety of the claims (not only the examples listed above) to conform to current U.S. practice.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Dennert DE 3634568.

Dennert appears to disclose all of the applicants elected claim limitations as best understood by the examiner (see 35 U.S.C. § 112 2nd paragraph rejections above).
